[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 26.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

French Affairs.

LONDON, June 25.—The Observer to-day says the programme of the Orleanists in case the elections should show a Monarchical majority in the Assembly, is to move the establishment of the Constitution, and when it is adopted to offer the throne to Count de Chambord. Should he find the proposition inconsistent with his dignity, the Crown is to be tendered to Count de Paris.

The Duke de Chartres and Prince de Joinville returned to England yesterday.

PARIS, June 25.—The Constitutionnel protests that the absence of the Assembly which deprives Paris of its Metropolitan charter, justifies the German view that the order of the Capital is still disturbed.

The Official Journal publishes addresses received from thirty-six Departments of France expressing confidence in the Assembly and Executive.

The Bank of France will to-morrow recommence to receive deposits and will pay arrears of persons on the 1st of July.

Duke D'Aumale is in Paris.

Prince Joachim Murat has returned to England.

Gambetta offers his services to the Republic.

General European News.

FLORENCE, June 25.—A dispatch from Favre to the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, reassures the Italian Government concerning enrollments made in France by Col. Charette, former commander of the Papal troops. The regiments under his command explicitly declined to belong to the French army.

MADRID, June 25.—Marshall Serrano has been entrusted with the formation of a new Spanish ministry.

LISBON, June 25.—The Emperor of Brazil will leave Lisbon to-morrow for France. He will make a visit to Bayonne, Paris, Germany, England and Italy, and return to Brazil in February.

LONDON, June 25.—The annual banquet of the Cobden Club came off last evening. The prominent speech of the occasion was made by the Earl of Granville. In the course of his remarks Lord Granville said if definite proposals in reference to the French treaty of commerce were made to her Majesty's Government, they would be received with most friendly consideration. Passing to the treaty of Washington, Earl Granville said Mr. Cobden always desired that America and England should always be connected by ties of the warmest character. The speaker then eulogized the labors of the Marquis of Ripon and Prof. Leonard in the High Commission, and spoke of the settlement of the Alabama question as a great and good work, both in its relations to the past and future, showing how dissensions which were, perhaps, the commencement of quarrels should be settled, leaving behind only friendship, peace, and good will. In continuation he alluded to the United States as holding striking protectionist opinions, but declared his belief that the people of that country have come to the conclusion that it is unprofitable to continue the collection of enormous tariffs. He spoke in high praise of the efforts of the United States to pay off its debt.

The Marquis of Ripon made a brief speech in which he maintained that the treaty of Washington was equal to a contract between neighbors.

Slavery in Brazil.

RIO JANEIRO, June 5.—In the Brazilian Chambers a vote was taken upon the clause of speech relative to the emancipation of slaves belonging to the crown, and resulted in a majority of twenty-eight for the government. The debate upon the emancipation bill itself has not yet been commenced.

CALIFORNIA.

Political News.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—A vessel has been sent north with a party to take possession of the newly discovered coal veins on the Aleutian Islands in behalf of the company in San Francisco, who fitted out the first expedition. They carry supplies with them and will proceed to open the veins and make preparations for a systematic working of them.

This afternoon Henry Weimer of Vallejo, was shot and mortally wounded by Thos. Farren, at whose residence, on Clementina street, he was visiting. The two men appear to have been skylarking and becoming excited handled each other with considerable roughness. Farren says that Weimer attempted to throw him down stairs when he drew a revolver and fired, the bullet passing through the lower part of Weimer's body. Farren was arrested. The doctor in attendance reports Weimer sinking fast.

The town has been much excited to-day with the news of the rejection of all terms of compromise by the Amador rioters and the marching of troops for Sutter creek from Latrobe Station this afternoon. Much anxiety is felt to hear of the arrival of the troops at Sutter creek now momentarily expected. The National Guard of San Francisco can all be turned out in an hour's notice, and should any serious resistance be offered by the rioters there will be more offering to go than will probably be called for. Gov. Haight's course in holding a final conference with the rioters and exhausting every opportunity for a peaceful solution of the difficulty before ordering the military forward, though regarded with disfavor by the more impatient at first, now appears to meet with pretty general approval.

The preparations for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Pontificate of Pius IX, next Sunday, are being made on a very extensive scale, and the celebration will be participated in by nearly the entire Catholic population.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The Democratic State Convention at Sacramento, on the 21st and 22d, was a very harmonious one, and business was dispatched with rapidity. The platform adopted is substantially the Vallandigham new departure, recognizing the Constitution as it now stands, with all amendments, opposing railroad subsidies, and favoring a distribution of public lands among actual settlers, rigid economy in National and State administrations, abolition of the income tax and all sinecure offices, opposing Chinese immigration, and denouncing the mismanagement of national affairs by the Republican party. The nominations were then in order, and Gov. H. H. Haight was renominated by acclamation for Governor; E. J. Lewis for Lieut. Governor; Jackson Temple and Selden S. Wright for Supreme Judges; W. B. C. Brown for Secretary of State; R. O. Dowitt for Comptroller; O. P. Fitzgerald for Superintendent of Schools; A. Coronel for State Treasurer; Jos. Hamilton for Attorney General; J. W. Bost for Surveyor General; John Barry for State Printer; Thomas Laspayor for Clerk of the Supreme Court; I. Friedlander for Harbor Commissioner, and J. W. Coffroth for Congress in the middle district.

Friedlander positively declined the nomination of Harbor Commissioner. The State Central Democratic Committee will meet on July 6th and nominate another candidate.

AN ANECDOTE OF PROF. MORSE.—When the great inventor was in Washington, employing all his energies to obtain an appropriation from the Government to erect a line from Baltimore to Washington, he had his instruments at each end of the capitol to demonstrate to the members of Congress the feasibility of the plan. He says: "I talked to them, explained the working of the instrument hour after hour. I gained many adherents; still incredulous, and many even scouted at the idea as preposterous, and pronounced my instrument as the toy of a cracked brained enthusiast. It was toward the close of the session, and there were still about two or three hundred bills yet to be passed before they came to mine. It was late at night, and finally I gave up in absolute despair, and left the Capitol building with a sad heart. I was bankrupt, having expended all that I had on my discovery. I walked down the Capitol steps with exactly fifty cents, all I had in the world and a more disconsolate individual it would have been hard to find. After a wakeful night, I rose in the morning, to find my bill passed, and a new era in the history of science commenced."

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

French Affairs.

VERSAILLES, June 26.—Thiers is slightly indisposed.

Persigny declines to stand as a candidate for the Assembly for the Department of Loire.

Government has received favorable accounts as to the prospects of its supporters in the coming elections.

The Communists of Paris are quiet, but the organization is kept up.

La Verite says: Fearing detection the Communist workmen appear to be decided to refrain from voting.

The official journal contains several decrees relative to loan and war indemnity.

PARIS, June 26.—Figaro says the Orleans Princes will proceed to Frohsdorff where they will await the decision of the country in silence.

The Constitutionnel urges the electors to ratify the policy of Thiers without conditions or amendment.

Virtel, late member of the Communist committee, has been arrested.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, June 25.—A majority of the Cortes hold a meeting on Monday to consider the King's refusal to accept the resignation of the Cabinet.

Manchester Cotton Mills Burned.

LONDON, June 26.—One thousand workmen are turned out of employment by the burning of the Manchester cotton mill.

EASTERN STATES.

A Crisis in the Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Official relations between Secretary Boutwell and Commissioner Pleasanton seem to be approaching a crisis. The trouble chiefly arises from misunderstanding as to the limit of power of the latter in management of his department. Pleasanton doubted the legal right of the Secretary to interfere in the settlement of the New York Central case, notwithstanding the opinion of the Solicitor of the department, but the first open collision occurred during the past day or two with regard to an entirely different matter. On Friday last Pleasanton awarded a contract for furnishing paper for new whisky, beer and tobacco stamps to a Connecticut firm. The award is said to have been made without consulting the Secretary of the Treasury, who disapproved of the paper and the manner of awarding the contract, as he thinks the bids of other contractors who have hitherto faithfully fulfilled their contracts were not duly considered. The Secretary, therefore, annulled the contract. Pleasanton is displeased with the Secretary's action, and in a correspondence with him denies the right of the latter to interfere in contracts made in the Internal Revenue Bureau. Law officers of the Treasury Department support the Secretary, and both officers are preparing papers in the case to present to the President on his return this week.

The Grain Crops.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Dispatches received at the Western Associated Press office in this city, from Eastern and Northern Iowa, Eastern and Southern Wisconsin, Northern and Western Indiana, and from all parts of Illinois, state that the crops promise to be among the best known for years. Wheat is injured somewhat, in some sections, by rust, but generally the crop is much above the average. In Minnesota, however, reports are not so favorable. In many localities there will only be half a crop.

Indian Affairs.

A letter from Superintendent Hoag says, the general council of Indians of the Indian Territory adjourned on the 14th. The delegates reaffirmed the constitution, and promised to organize under it as speedily as possible, and lead useful and steady lives instead of roaming about and murdering whites. Of course, it is not expected that murderous raids will be entirely stopped, but greater security is looked for.

Affairs in Venezuela.

Accounts received from Venezuela represent the state of affairs as deplorable. Society is disorganized in most parts of the country. Commerce is destroyed. And business of all kinds is exceedingly dull. The political state of the country is anything but quiet. There is no communication between sea ports, and interior and private correspondence is often intercepted. The United States are said to suffer from the absence of representatives.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Seventy six men from New York, all utterly destitute, arrived from Magdalena Bay by steamer Montana to-day, and are now in front of the City Hall waiting to interview Mayor Selby. They are greatly incensed against the Lower California Colonization Company through the outrageous misrepresentations of whose agents they were induced to go to that desolate and God-forsaken locality. They say that before they were allowed to leave they were compelled to sign an agreement to release the Lower California Company from all liability for damages. Some are sick, others barefooted and they are all in rags and a badly demoralized condition. They say that had not the Mexican authorities at La Paz given them rations they would all have starved.

Dr. Barstow, who shot himself in the forehead with a pistol last night from unknown cause, and Wiemer, who was shot by Thomas Farren at the christening party on Clementina street yesterday afternoon, are both still living though in a hopeless condition.

Private dispatches from Sutter Creek this morning say all is quiet. There are no demonstrations on the part of the rioters. People of the county generally are delighted at the arrival of troops and anxious to have them remain until danger of further complications is over. The mines are being pumped out. The report at San Francisco that the troops had been fired upon is not credited.

The German Benevolent Society has taken charge of seven of the destitute Magdalena Bay colonists and other national organizations will assist others. The S. F. Benevolent Society is helping the most needy.

CURRENT NOTES.

Immense fields of corn have been planted in Illinois this season by itinerant corn planters, who take jobs at seventy-five cents an acre. With a man, a boy and a machine they plant twenty acres a day.

South Carolina has increased only 4,952 in population since 1860. The total now is 705,160. There are 281,639 native whites, 7,768 foreign whites, 415,284 native blacks, 296 foreign blacks, 122 Indians, and 1 heathen Chinee.

The other day a passenger on the Mississippi steamer Glencoe, a German, ripped open his abdomen with a pruning knife, and with both hands tore out his intestines, mutilating himself so that he died in a few moments. No cause is known for the deed.

In the United States Circuit Court at Canandaigua, N. Y., on the 20th inst., Judge Woodruff decided that the extension of the Miller patent for making paper pulp had been improperly granted, and was void, and that the patent is now public property.

American readers are often amused with the names of Chinese. To them Li To Ta and Chy Lung look very funny. But perhaps it is only in the way we print it. Suppose some of our own were given thus: De Vis and Gree Ley, Schuy Ler Col Fax and Val Lan Dig Ham.

Kate Boyd, in Cincinnati, presented her lover with her photograph. A short time afterward she caught him showing it to a crowd of loafers on the steps of a saloon, whereupon she sailed up to the offending young man, and "went for" him so severely that he had to be "put in his little bed," which he has kept ever since.

A REMARKABLE CAVE IN DOUGLAS COUNTY.

INTERESTING EXPLORATION—HUMAN REMAINS FOUND.

The following sketch is furnished by a correspondent of the Roseburg Ensign:

It has for some time been known that there is a cave back of the residence of Mr. J. F. Cooper, about two and a half miles north of Wilbur.

On Saturday last a party consisting of six including the writer, went into the cave for the purpose of exploring it.

Having procured torches of pine, we started in at an irregular opening not quite as large as an ordinary well.

The mouth of the cave proper is much larger. After going down almost perpendicular for several feet, we passed under a large rock, which almost blocks the pass-way. Emerging from under this we enter a large chasm or fissure considerably wider, and perhaps thirty feet high.

At this point there are passages opening out in two or three directions. We first started into one which is very narrow, being not more than six feet wide in the widest place, and in one place not more than eighteen inches. On our first entry into this hall, we found it to be the domicil of an innumerable host of bats, which being started from their ancient homesteads by the glare of our torches, flew in every direction, not unfrequently striking us. The passage we were now exploring, though narrow is very high, the walls on either side being solid sandstone, almost smooth, and nearly perpendicular.

Just before entering this fissure, we left a signal fire for fear of getting lost in the labyrinths of the mountain, by taking some wrong pass-way. After wending along this cleft for some time, we saw a glimmer of light above. There was a hole about two feet in diameter directly overhead at this point. It is perhaps thirty feet from the floor of the hall to this sky light. Passing along some distance further the hall grows very narrow in one place. None of us being corpulent we squeezed through, when it immediately widened again. We soon saw daylight ahead, and clambering up through a narrow scuttle hole we found that we had come out at the other end of the ridge from where we went in. On our way we had left a number of passages on either side, leading off in different directions, some of these are too small, and go down too perpendicularly to be very inviting to the explorer. Into some of these gorges we threw rocks, which went rattling down until we could hear them no more.

It is very dark in the cave, and the glare of our torches gave the whole scene a peculiar wierd like appearance. In a few places the water slowly drips from above.

After tracing this passage out we went back to the original starting point, and taking a new supply of torch wood, we again went in determined to explore a cavern we had passed on our left, in our first trip.

We built a signal light in the main pass way, and then turned abruptly to the left and ascended somewhat for quite a distance, when suddenly we found our way nearly closed, there being a hole just large enough to go through head or feet foremost.

Reaching a torch through we saw that the way was open still beyond, but the floor seemed to pitch down at a fearful angle. It was a pretty rough looking road, but we mustered up courage and squeezed through. Immediately after getting through we found the chamber considerably enlarged. The roof is very lofty, so high that we could not see it in places. Before leaving this narrow gate way, which we call the Devil's Trap, we built another signal fire and then proceeded cautiously on down, for by this time we were far underground, and had a dark and tortuous way out, with some chances of getting into a hole leading to the infernal region, or some other undiscovered, unexplored section, neither of which we had any peculiar hankering after. We soon passed out of sight of our signal light, but finding no side passages, we concluded that it would be safe to go on.

While halted and in consultation, considering what we had passed, and surmising what was ahead, we all agreed that no human being had ever trodden these recesses before; but in this we mistook, for soon the leader of the party announced that he had found bones!

This of course created quite an excitement in our little party, and all were eager to find out what kind of bones they were, and if possible to get them. Having nothing to dig with our progress was slow, the skeleton being embedded in rocks and debris from decayed sandstone. There were two skulls side by side, both of which were broken in getting them out.

We now found the smoke becoming very disagreeable, so we concluded to go out and get dinner, and procure candles and digging implements, which we did. We found our pick and hoe of but little use on account of the narrow space in which the bones were embedded. We succeeded in getting two skulls, two clavicles, half of a superior maxilla, and an inferior maxilla, numerous ribs and vertebræ, and one scapula, and three humeral bones of the arm. We found no arm bones lower down than the humerus, and none of the lower ribs, showing clearly that the head and chest was all we could get at.

The bones were very singularly situated, being at the further end and upper part of a recess about four feet deep, between two walls only about ten or twelve inches apart. Into this recess a person can slip edgewise, the left arm going foremost. At the further end of this niche there seems to be another, to the right hand. In this opening the bones were found; the skull bones being in the back of the main recess, while the bodies seems to have lain off in the opening to the right. The heads seem to have been considerably lower than the feet. Most of the bones are considerably decayed. The skulls differ considerably in size and shape, one being larger and better formed than the other. One is narrow but deep through from the frontal eminence to the occipital protuberance. The other is quite broad and tolerably well proportioned.

Judging from the relative size and shape of the two skulls, it is probable that they belonged to male and female.

The humeral bones are a little longer than the average, but considerably more slender. The clavicles, or collar bones, are of the usual length, but more slim. The muscular attachments are not generally so well developed as in the Anglo-American skeleton, but one set of bones is much superior in this particular to the other—another proof, perhaps, of the difference of sex of the two persons.

The capula is of the common size, but the maxilla much larger than the average, being five inches from the extremes of the condyles. I have measured the jaw-bone of an Indian since we took out the bones from the cave, and found it to be just four inches between the extremes of the condyles, showing a difference of an inch, which is a great deal.

It is evident that the old chap had an excellent mill for grinding camas and grasshoppers. The teeth was in an excellent state of preservation. The wisdom tooth on the left side had never developed, and the angle of the jaw was quite round, showing that the person to whom it belonged probably died in the prime of life. I was greatly in hope that we might find hatchets, knives or some other implement or utensil that would give some clue as to who the persons were, and when they died. It is quite likely that some further search might reveal something of the kind. It would be very interesting to know who they were, and how they died.

It is clear that they could not have got in their present position by any passage now existing. Everything indicates that they have been there for a long time, perhaps ages. No wild animal could have dragged them there, and placed them as they were found. One of the arms were broken; the fracture evidently was made many years ago. ... ...ably it was broken by some violence done to the person of its possessor at the time of his death.

The whole affair is wrapped in mystery. These persons may have been hiding in time of war, and got lost and starved, or may have been buried there, or they may have been climbing around in there and got killed or shut in by the fall of a rock. Their history no man will ever know.

OREGON.

Wheat is quoted at $1 25 per bushel in Douglas county.

A granary, to hold 60,000 bushels of wheat, is to be erected at the Eugene City mills.

A man named James Hegent, 17 years of age, fell from a load of hay near Springfield, Lane county, on Saturday, and received injuries which are believed to be fatal.

From the Salem Mercury: Letters have been missed at the P. O., at Salem, and suspicion finally rested on a man named John McMahon. A letter was handed to him containing $60 for a certain person. The owner never received the letter, and McMahon was arrested and bound over in the sum of $200, to appear at the next term of Court.

Referring to the proposed invitation to Mr. ... Greeley, the Statesman says: When Mr. Thomas Smith, of Umpqua, was President of the State Agricultural Society, Mr. ..., as Secretary, at his (Mr. ...'s) ... wrote to Mr. Greeley, ... to deliver the Annual Address ... to which he returned a courteous answer saying that his then engagements would ... accepting the invitation, but that ... ### A Fresh Complication in Europe.

Dispatches which came on Saturday stated that a serious complication was likely to arise between Great Britain and Germany relative to Heligoland. It is said that Bismarck demands that this island shall be ceded back to Germany, and that the British Cabinet has replied that Great Britain is not required to act on any other [illegible] than that of exercising a watchful care over her own interests, without special regard to the interests or wishes of Germany.

It is possible that the possession of this island may yet be a question that will give Germany an opportunity to measure swords with Great Britain. In view of what has happened in the case of France, who would be bold enough to declare that Great Britain would come triumphant out of such a struggle? Englishmen when they contemplate the possibility of such a war may be able to see new force in the article in Blackwood on the "Battle of Dorking," and ask themselves whether it is not possible that veracious history may sometimes be written before the events which it relates transpire.

Heligoland is an island in the North Sea forty-six miles from the mouth of the Elbe. [illegible] great rock two hundred feet high, surrounded by a sandy plain. The whole area of the island is but five square miles. Up to 1807 it belonged to Denmark. In that year England seized it in order to obtain an advantage in foiling the schemes of the first Napoleon. After the fall of Napoleon it was confirmed by the other Powers to Great Britain, to whom it has never been of any particular value except as a naval station. But it is for this purpose that Germany [illegible] it.

Germany bases her claim to the island on the ground that it once belonged to Schleswig, a province of Denmark, which Germany has absorbed. Great Britain first took the island and Germany afterwards took the province and now the latter demands that the island be "restored" to her. It is not for Americans to participate in the dispute, or to attempt to decide whether England or Germany has the better right. But in case the two countries should come to blows and Germany should give England a sound drubbing most Americans, remembering the conduct of England toward us, would be able to witness the affair with becoming resignation.

A Rough Road to Travel.

A small portion of our German-American citizens are Democrats, but no portion of them are debt-repudiators or public swindlers. They would keep the national obligations to the letter and spirit, and pay the debt to the last dollar. Hence German Democrats find fault with the financial planks of the "new departure" platform and strongly dissent from it. The New York Staats Zeitung, the leading German Democratic journal of the country, says: "The financial part of the platform is wholly unsatisfactory. Vague Pendletonian, Labor-Unionist theories. First a [illegible] clinging to the old twaddle against the payment of the bonds in specie; then a disclaimer of a desire for inflation by the endorsement of certain schemes of special conversion, and of other measures which, under no circumstances, belong to a general financial programme, and the introduction whereof is not justified by anything. It [illegible] the Democratic [illegible] to struggle in the financial business."

The Democratic Anzeiger des Westens, of St. Louis has the following comments on this feature of the platform: "But the weak part of the Ohio Democracy is its financial policy. We had supposed that Pendleton's greenback policy had at last been laid [illegible], but find to our disagreeable surprise that in Ohio it is still alive. Instead of laying all stress upon a speedy resumption of specie payments, the Democrats of Ohio revive the old quarrel about the payment of five-twenties in greenbacks. Viewed from a party standpoint, this is a grave mistake, as also from a standpoint of a reasonable financial policy."

What with the Bourbon Democrats objecting to the new platform because it departs from the time-honored principles of opposition [illegible], and [illegible] Democrats denouncing it because it does not depart from the greenback swindle, it is having a hard road to travel.

The Land Market.

The rage of land speculation which began so extensively some months ago is perceptibly subsiding. Not that inquiry for lands has ceased—on the contrary, the real estate agents are still making many sales. But the speculative tendency has measurably stopped, and lands which a short time since seemed likely to go up to extravagant figures can still be had at reasonable prices. This check is an excellent thing. It is a decided change for the better. At the rate at which lands were going up it appeared probable that they would soon reach such high figures as would disappoint those coming into the State to buy, and cause them to look elsewhere. But since the first flurry of speculation has passed a state of things more favorable is apparent. In nearly all parts of the Wallamet Valley land can still be obtained at fair prices, and in fact there is [illegible] to sell than to buy. This results from a desire on the part of many to go east of the Cascade Mountains to engage in rearing sheep and cattle, instead of remaining in this valley to raise grain.

Statistics of American journalism prepared by Geo. P. Rowell & Co. of New York, show that the total number of newspapers and periodicals published in the United States is 5,[illegible]. Of the newspapers 551 are published daily. There are 548 papers which print more than 5,000 copies each issue, and 11 which print more than 100,000. The publications printed in the German language number 341. It is estimated that the average number of copies printed yearly for each inhabitant in New York is 113, in Oregon 40, in Connecticut 29, and in North Carolina and some other Southern States but 4.

Not at all does that uncompromising Democratic paper, the Eugene Guard, like the new departure. A contemporary having stated that Geo. H. Pendleton had declined to be a candidate for Governor at the coming election in Ohio, the Guard copies the item, and retorts spitefully against the new principles of its party, by saying: Mr. Pendleton shows the same discretion that a wise man would when meeting a skunk—he lets the foul thing alone.

Growing crops in Yamhill county look splendid. The prospect was never [illegible].

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 26.—This afternoon sensation reports to the effect that the troops had been suddenly attacked by rioting miners at Sutter Creek, defeated and driven out of the place, were circulated to some extent upon the street, causing some uneasiness. Private dispatches up to a late hour in the afternoon, from reliable sources, report everything quiet, and the work of pumping out mines going on without interruption, all mines being strongly guarded by troops. The feeling among the strikers is bitter, but they are impotent for mischief.

Henry Viemer or Weimer, of Vallejo, shot last evening by Thomas Farren, was living at 4 P. M. to-day, but is insensible and without chance of recovery.

Stocks were very quiet this afternoon. Sales were unusually light without material change in prices. Flour is quite weak, with prospect of a further decline this week.

Thomas Haley, now in San Quentin on sentence for robbery of a soldier, will probably be pardoned out, as the money alleged to have been stolen has since been found at Alcatraz, where the soldier had hidden it and forgotten it.

Advices by steamer from the western coast of Mexico represent the re-election of Juarez almost an accomplished fact, he having managed the canvass so as to defeat every plot against him, and destroy his opponent's popularity completely.

The San Francisco Benevolent Society has furnished the destitute Magdalena colonists with blankets, and some money has been raised to relieve their immediate necessities. The California Labor Exchange will find employment as early as possible for all who are able to work. Their stories all agree in the main as to the rascally frauds perpetrated upon them by those who inveigled them into the expedition, and indignation against the Lower California Co. is strong and freely expressed by everybody who has conversed with them.

M. DeBreuil, French Consul, Mr. Cerruti, Italian Consul, and his family, and Edward Bosqui, job printer, of this city, while riding at Santa Cruz yesterday, were thrown from the carriage by its upsetting, and all were more or less injured. DeBreuil had his collar bone broken, Bosqui his shoulder broken; the others were less injured.

The solemn [illegible] day of Templar Order, adaptive services of the feast of bread and honey, in commemoration of the birth of St. John, were administered last night, for the first time in California, in Mount Ararat Ark No. 1, Archoness Mrs. Jenny Kent, under direction of Venerable Archon Jonas Eaton, conducted the ceremony.

A youth eighteen years of age, residing in Spring Valley (part of the city) attempted suicide yesterday, with strychnine, all for love. The attempt was discovered in season, and he was sluiced out and his life saved.

SUTTER CREEK, June 26.—The troops will go into camp near Eureka mine; their tents were left at Amador, and their blankets brought on. The leaguers are very quiet, but are incensed that troops are here. No details of guards have been made. Three or four pistol shots were fired, between here and Amador. The troops say the bullets struck near them. No conflict anticipated. The march yesterday was a hard one for the troops. The roads were very rough. The march from Amador here was in the night. They had been under arms since three o'clock in the morning. The men slept in the skating rink, with guards and patrols on the road, but they were not necessary. Miners and others have been flocking into town to-day. Everything is orderly, but a great amount of talking among the leaguers and bitter feelings that troops have been ordered here. Egan called on Oatman to assure him they would not devour troops. Sheriff Dur[illegible] is in town. He says he anticipates no collision, although—[Here the line broke.]

THE "WEISSBIER" STORY.—Mr. Curtis writes, in the "Easy Chair" of Harper's Magazine:

There is one tradition in the German army which has doubtless survived to this day, and has been often gaily repeated around the camp fires before Paris. It was told to Dr. Leiber by General Pfuhl, of the allied army of occupation in 1815. After entering Paris, General Pfuhl was Military Governor of one of the divisions of the city, and a Prussian soldier, native of Pomerania, was one day brought before him for having beaten his host, a French citizen, because he did not instantly produce the white beer—weissbier of Berlin—when the soldier demanded it. The demand was so extraordinary that the curious General sent for the offending soldier and investigated the case. The soldier confessed everything. He had asked for weissbier in Paris, and, against the most positive orders had beaten his French host who did not produce it.

"But, my boy," said the General, "I cannot understand you. What do you mean by asking for weissbier in Paris?"

"I will tell you, General, what I mean. When the French were in Pomerania, in 1806, I returned one day from school and found that the French soldiers were savagely beating my old father because they insisted upon having claret wine, and there was none, perhaps, in all Pomerania. It was a terrible sight; and I took a solemn oath, General, boy as I was, that should I ever get to Paris as a soldier I would demand weissbier, and if the Frenchman did not instantly bring it I'd flog him well. I'm only keeping my oath, General."

General Pfuhl said to him: "You will have your punishment, of course; but, my boy," he added kindly, "when you come out I want to see you."

These old feelings have doubtless played a terrible part in the late war; nor can the French plead that they did not openly appeal to the ancient enmity. The French declaration of war of the 15th of July, 1870, ends with these words: "The extraordinary constitutional changes in Prussia awaken the slumbering recollections of 1814. Let us cross the Rhine, and avenge the insults of Prussia. The victors of Jena survive!" So haughtily marched France to demand claret in Berlin. But lo! it is Germany that quaffs weissbier in Paris!

RAILROAD BRIDGES.—A marked feature in the engineering of the present day is the construction of great railroad bridges over navigable streams. There are the bridges over the Missouri at Kansas City, St. Charles, Leavenworth and Omaha—the two former completed and the two latter in process of construction—and the bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis, now being built, and that at Quincy, already some time completed. In the East there is that stupendous work now being built, the bridge over the East river between New York and Brooklyn—in some respects the greatest bridge in the world—and the Hudson Highland bridge, a suspension bridge, which is to cross the Hudson river at Fort Clinton, five miles above West Point. This latter will also rank, when completed, among the great works of engineering skill. It is to be a suspension bridge, 155 feet above the water, with a clear span of 1,600 feet, and sufficiently strong to cross a train of sixty locomotives and 35,000,000 people.

The Constitutionalist, published at Augusta, Georgia, is surprised that any Radical paper, North or South, should be first in the bad pre-eminence of accepting the Constitutional Amendments as accomplished facts. It gives its own opinion about those amendments thus:

"They are accomplished frauds—but accomplished only so long as they stand unrepealed and of practical force. But they stand, as they do, under the solemn protest of the States upon which they were foisted without a hearing. They have never been passed upon by ten of the Southern States, and carry with them no moral sanction."

DELICATE.—The Eugene Guard (Dem.) criticises one of the "villainy-accepters" of its party in this original style:

The editor of the Salem Mercury was attacked so suddenly and so violently with the nigger epidemic, known as the "new departure," that he hadn't time to turn around, but, donkey-like, backed clear into the mongrel party, till there is nothing visible of him but a pair of monstrous ears sticking out of the hole he backed out at.

A fire in the Chinese quarter at Boise City on the 20th inst. destroyed sixteen houses. The loss of the buildings is doubtless a gain to the town.

The telegraph operator below has condescended to give us an account of the doings of the Democratic State Convention of California, which was held about a week ago. He need not have been in a hurry. We shall have the whole thing by mail to-day.

THE GREAT WORLD TONIC!

PLANTATION BITTERS

This Wonderful Vegetable restorative is prepared from pure St. Croix Rum and Calisaya Bark, known the world over as [illegible] woods. As a Tonic and Cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Just the thing for the morning lassitude and depression of spirits caused by late hours and what is called fashionable dissipation.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Of all the appetizers it is the most infallible, and the impulse which it imparts to the digestive functions soon puts Dyspepsia to flight.

PLANTATION BITTERS

It is the foremost remedy of the age. The specific of every species of debility, general or local, constitutional or casual.

PLANTATION BITTERS

A wine glassful taken half an hour before breakfast, dinner or supper, quickens the flow of the gastric juice, and thereby provokes hunger.

PLANTATION BITTERS

"By its use I dispose of three good square meals per day, with a good relish, have no pains and have gained sixteen pounds in eight weeks; sleep well, and consider myself a healthy man."

PLANTATION BITTERS

Taken moderately, three times a day, will give men strength, health and a cheerful and contented disposition.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Will give rest and quiet to those who cannot sleep, from unsatisfactory condition of their affairs.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Will restore tone and vigor—just the thing for mothers nursing.

PLANTATION BITTERS

"Well, they cured me of every distressing symptom in ten weeks and you had better follow my example."

PLANTATION BITTERS

If you want pure, rich and electrical blood—blood that gives tone to the system, the "rose tint of health" to the cheek.—Try it.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Thousands of families in Ohio and Mississippi valley, and on the border of the southern rivers and swamps, will not be without out.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Which is the [illegible] bottle of Plantation Bitters, or a physician at two dollars a visit?

PLANTATION BITTERS

"The value of such an antidote cannot be expressed in words."

PLANTATION BITTERS

Will restore the vital energy, repair indigestion, and correct the sluggish circulation of the blood.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Is an unequalled invigorating cordial for the aged as well as for the young.

PLANTATION BITTERS

Is unsurpassed for weak and delicate persons, on their requiring a gentle stimulant.

PLANTATION BITTERS

"I began taking your Bitters the next day, and am perfectly happy to tell you that they have completely restored my health, strength and cheerfulness."

PLANTATION BITTERS

"I find nothing so good for headache and languor to which my daughters are at times subject! It gives them a splendid appetite, and they eat like pigs."

PLANTATION BITTERS

"By advice of my physician, soon after my baby was born I commenced taking them, and they have done me so much good."

PLANTATION BITTERS

Are sold everywhere.

Dupuy; Tried for Her Life, by Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth; Little Men, by Louisa M. Alcott, (two vols.); Moods, by the same; Reginald Archer, by Ann M. Crane Seemuller; Under Two Flags, by Ouida; Soprano (a musical novel), by Jane Kingsford; The Forest House, and Catherine's Lovers, by Erckman Chatrian; Ginx' Baby, His Birth and other Misfortunes; The Initials by the Baroness [illegible]; the Life and Works of Laurence Sterne—Tristram Shandy; Sentimental Journey; Sermons and Letters; Pericles and Aspasia, by Walter Savage Landor; Vera, or the Russian Princess and the English Earl.

RAILROAD TERMINI.—We met in this city, [illegible], a Harrisburg man who was feeling exuberant about the completion of the railroad and telegraph to his village, and who talked largely about the termini, at Harrisburg and Portland—"Harrisburg at one end and Portland at the other—the two most important, busy and thriving towns in the State, etc." It reminded us of the boy's play of see-saw, with a big fat boy on one end and a little bit of a two year old stripling on the other. In play, the little one goes up kiting and cackling with intense enjoyment of the fun. We suggested the simile to our Harrisburg friend and he accepted it with the remark: "Yes, Harrisburg is the little stripling in the see saw, but he is an almighty smart little fellow, and the big fat boy couldn't teeter very well without him." We had to admit that the Harrisburg man was equal to the occasion.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTRY.—We hear from all [illegible] that the country is enjoying a fine growing season. The late rains have been very [illegible] to late sowed grain, and a fine crop is anticipated. The Columbia bottom lands have suffered greatly from the flood, and the greater part of the vegetable crop has been destroyed. A large part of the supplies of this city is usually received from that part of the country, and the crop being thus a failure, we shall have to draw upon the Upper Wallamet Valley for [illegible], onions, turnips, cabbages, etc.,—articles not usually brought in in large quantities from that [illegible]. Vegetables will bear a good price until fall, and the interior farmers would do well to take care of their crops and promote the yield by all available means. This city is now [illegible] and many kinds of vegetables [illegible].

[illegible] TO OLYMPIA.—A gentleman who arrived here from Olympia on Saturday, and who has also traveled the road from Monticello and [illegible] to Olympia, informs us that he never [illegible] road in as fine condition as now. Mr. Coggan has expended large sums of money to put the road in good repair, and he still has a small gang of hands at work on it. The traveling [illegible] have [illegible], certainly, to be much obliged to Mr. Coggan, for his enterprise. This road has, in former years, been noted as the worst on the coast; but under the vigorous and liberal [illegible] of Mr. Coggan, it is rapidly losing its "bad distinction."

[illegible]—We have received a card of invitation to attend the ball at Kalama on the evening of the 4th of July, by which it appears that the new hotel built by the Chicago company, has been [illegible] the "Kazano House." Kazano, is a [illegible], and we want to know right away what it means and how to pronounce it. Is it Ka-zano, Kaz-a-no, or Ka-zan-o? Wont somebody tell us, quick! We call upon the sage of the Kalama Beacon to speak at once, and to speak out and plain. We don't want to be agitated on this thing longer than is absolutely necessary.

MARKET HOUSE AND THEATER.—We have it on reliable authority that Capt. Ankeny will [illegible] to-day for the erection of a market building between Ash and A streets and First and Second. The building will be erected only [illegible]—for a market house. [illegible] design, however, to build next year an [illegible], to be finished for a theater. It will have 60 feet front on First street and run through the block, on Ash to Second street.

ORATORIO OF ESTHER.—Yesterday [illegible], erroneously, that the performance of the Cantata of Esther would require three [illegible]. The entire Cantata will be presented [illegible], and on Thursday and Saturday it will simply be repeated each evening. [illegible] contains the names of many of our singers, and the concert may therefore [illegible] to be all that is promised by Prof. [illegible].

EDUCATIONAL.—The present term and school year of the public schools of Portland will close on [illegible], the 29th inst. Examination of pupils of the Harrison street school will take place on Wednesday and Thursday, till 12 M. Bible exercises on Thursday afternoon. Patrons of the school and friends of education are cordially invited to attend. I. W. PRATT, Principal.

PASSENGERS FROM THE NORTH.—The California brought the following named passengers from Puget Sound and Victoria: Mrs. A. Fox and child, Master George Fox, Rev. E. White, wife and family, A. S. Pease, Robert Johnson, Miss [illegible] Fox, Master Charles Fox, Dr. J. M. Rice and wife, Hon. Allen Francis, W. S. Warren, Ed and Thompson.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—Yesterday Mr. St. John [illegible] laying up the walls of the custom house, using the Bellingham Bay stone. This stone takes an exceedingly handsome finish. It [illegible] the foundation stone (from Astoria) so much in the shade as to make almost a painful contrast.

CLUB ROOM FURNITURE SOLD.—Mr. A. B. [illegible] sold yesterday at auction all the furniture, bar and kitchen fixtures, billiard tables, etc., of the Oregon Club Rooms. The articles brought fair prices, being purchased mostly by members of the club.

[illegible] FOR THE UPPER COLUMBIA.—The O. S. N. Co. will commence receiving freight for [illegible], Wallula and Lewiston, to-day. Trains [illegible] pass the Cascades, and at the Dalles connect with the steamer without difficulty.

AT HALF-MAST.—The flags of two of the engine houses No. 2 and No. 4—were at half-mast yesterday, in respect to the memory of Fred Del[illegible], a member of the Department, who died [illegible] Sunday morning.

FOREMEN'S MEETING.—The Board of Foremen of the Portland Fire Department will meet this evening at 8 o'clock, at the Police court room, by order of R. J. Holman, Chief Engineer.

THE EDWARD JAMES.—This vessel, owned by [illegible] Moffatt, of this city, is expected to arrive at this port to-day. She has a cargo of Chinese goods and about 140 Chinese passengers.

THE MAILS.—The mails from the South, since the new railroad schedule went into effect, arrive here at half-past one o'clock, P. M. The mails to the South close at one o'clock, P. M.

FALLING. The river was still falling yesterday [illegible] rapidly than at any time since the tide turned. The entire fall up to last evening was not far from 18 inches.

NO LIME IN THE MARKET.—It is said that there is not a barrel of lime in the Portland market, nor will there be till the bark Amelia shall arrive.

RAILROAD WORK.—Pile driving on the line of the Oregon Central Railroad across Couch's lake was begun yesterday morning.

MILITARY REMOVAL.—We learn that a part of the [illegible] has been transferred from Fort [illegible] to Fort Lapwai.

THE MURDER OF JOHN KELLY.

JOHN KELLY THE VICTIM, DIES WITHIN FIVE HOURS—CORONER'S INQUEST UPON THE BODY.

John Kelly, the man shot by Zed Wilson, Sunday evening, died at about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, having survived his wound about five hours. An inquest was held upon the body yesterday morning by Mr. T. J. Dryer, Coroner. An examination of the head was made by Drs. Ryan, Baker and Brown to [illegible] the course of the bullet fired by Wilson. The following is the

PHYSICIANS' STATEMENT.

PORTLAND, June 26, 1871.

We, the undersigned physicians, having examined carefully the body of Michael Shaughnessy, alias John Kelly, on oath do certify that the deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound, extending from the mastoid process of the right temporal bone to the left molar bone.

J. C. RYAN, M. D.,
W. D. BAKER, M. D.,
G. W. BROWN, M. D.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

The jury having heard the above statement and testimony of witnesses to the fact of the shooting of Kelly by Zed Wilson, returned the following verdict:

"Coroner's Inquest, June 26, 1871.—Before T. J. Dryer, Coroner of Multnomah county, Oregon. The following named persons having been summoned to hold an inquest upon the body known as John Kelly—John H. Martin, W. P. Harris, Antone Hupprich, Frank Keenan, Lewis Bowles, Lemuel Bills—we, the above named jury, find, after hearing testimony, that the deceased came to his death from a pistol shot fired from the hand of one Zed Wilson.

JOHN H. MARTIN, Foreman,
FRANK KEENAN,
LEWIS BOWLES,
W. P. HARRIS,
L. BILLS,
A. HUPPRICH.

In relation to this murder, it may be said, without prejudice to the action of the Grand Jury or the trial of Wilson by the Courts, that there has been very bad blood between the parties since the arrest of Kelly in 1868 for the attempt to rob Ada Phillips' house; that since Kelly's release from the penitentiary, he has threatened to kill Wilson for the part he took in procuring his arrest and conviction. We have not been able to learn that Kelly had at any time made any effort to carry his threat into execution; but it is generally understood that Wilson feared him, and took this method of clearing his way—he was determined to have "the drop" on Kelly.

EXAMINATION OF THE WOUND.

After the death of Kelly, the body was removed to the office of Dr. G. W. Brown, where the physicians whose names are attached to the above statement made a surgical examination to discover the exact course of the bullet. For this purpose the upper part of the skull was removed and the brain taken out. The latter was found intact and sound, the ball having passed just below its base. The brain was so large that some persons had the curiosity to weigh it, and found that it weighed exactly fifty ounces—a little more than the average of well-developed adult males. The remains we understand were buried yesterday afternoon.

CELEBRATION AT KALAMA.

The Committee of Arrangements appointed by the citizens of Kalama to make preparations for a celebration of the coming Fourth of July, met on Saturday evening, the 24th instant, William Brattan, Sen., of Lewis river in the chair.

Communication from Hon. Wm. Strong of Portland read, signifying his acceptance of the invitation of the Committee to be present in the capacity of orator of the day.

By unanimous consent Louis Van Vleet was appointed as the reader of the Declaration of Independence.

J. Isaacs, P. Corbett and H. H. Holt appointed as Soliciting Committee to raise funds to meet expenses.

The [illegible] of K[illegible] were appointed as a Committee to make special preparations for the Sabbath School children and all other children who may be in attendance.

E. P. Noyes unanimously appointed Marshal of the day.

The Committee were informed that efforts had been made to secure the 23d Infantry Band of Vancouver, and it is expected by the Committee that the Band will be in attendance.

W. Byron Daniels was appointed Treasurer, to receive and disburse the funds collected according to the orders of the Committee of Arrangements.

It was suggested by the Committee that the farmers and people from the country bring fruit for the tables.

On motion, the Secretary was ordered to send notice of the proceedings of the meeting to the OREGONIAN, Portland.

On motion, adjourned to meet on Thursday, the 29th inst.

WM. BRATTAN, SEN., President.
W. BYRON DANIELS, Secretary.

THE COURTS.

MONDAY, June 26, 1871.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, J.—Nightingale et al., vs. the O. & C. R. R. Co. et al.; motion for injunction set for argument on Friday, the 30th inst.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, J.—State vs. Chin Foy; judgment postponed till to-morrow morning.

Grand Jury called, sworn and charged.

State vs. Alfred Rushton; assault with a pistol; jury trial; verdict, "guilty." Wednesday set for passing sentence.

State vs. Phineas Ames; assault and battery; plea, "guilty." Wednesday set for sentence.

State vs. Sam Vowles; charge, mayhem; continued for the term.

State vs. Jacob Davis; gross fraud of common law; continued for the term.

State vs. Ned Persey; larceny of a watch; jury trial; verdict, "not guilty."

State vs. Anna Grabwe; arson; set for trial Tuesday morning.

James Remmis, for contempt of Court in disobeying a subpœna, was sent to jail for twenty days.

Augustus E. Meyers vs. Harriet Ann Meyers; divorce granted. Bronaugh for petitioner; Gibbs for the State.

PUT HIM OUT.—The Bulletin has this very just growl at the San Francisco telegraph reporter for the Portland Associated Press, to which we most heartily say amen: "The San Francisco reporter for the Portland Associated Press was very particular to send long dispatches about primary meetings and County Conventions in California, in connection with the Democratic State Convention, for which details no one in Oregon cared a particle; but he totally failed to send word of the action of that Convention—of the nomination for Governor, or any other important matter—for which a great many in Oregon have eagerly awaited information. The Convention met June 20th, and the candidate for Governor was, perhaps, nominated June 21st, but we must await the mails to get the intelligence;—the Press reporter has no disposition to furnish it—he has only trifles to tell of. We wish the Western Union Company would abate that one intolerable nuisance. We happen to know from private source that Gov. Haight was renominated, but we have not the Press reporter, whose duty it was to send us the information, to thank for the knowledge. Again we say, put him out, for gross neglect of duty."

JUST ARRIVED.—B. L. Stone has just received a large supply of Gold and Silver Watches of all the best patterns made. Also, Gold and Silver Chains for Ladies and Gents and elegant Opera Chains.

Also, a large assortment of the finest Jewelry and Precious Stones, Gold Headed Canes, a large lot of Spectacles, Plate and Silver Ware, and all kinds of Clocks. Mr. Stone is satisfied with quick sales and small profits.

A FAMILY REMEDY.—No family should be without some efficacious remedy for the cure of affections, so universally prevalent as coughs and colds—some remedy, too, which can be relied upon as safe, sure and certain. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry combines this desideratum.

Look at the price of Clothing at the store of Kohn & Fishel. Examine the superior quality of their Goods and you will be convinced they are worthy of your patronage. They will sell you a splendid Dress Suit, black or blue, for $25. An A 1 Cass. Business suit for $17 50. First class Blue or Black Beaver Suit for $25, and some cheaper. Summer Goods, such as Cheviot, Tweed, White Marseilles, Pique and Linen Suits at extreme low prices. Their stock of Furnishing Goods, White Shirts, Socks, &c., is the best in the city and at extreme low prices. Best Star White Shirt at $2 00.

BETTER THAN TAKING POISON.—An argument occurred the other evening at a fashionable Club House in Fifth Avenue, as to the best method of building up and renovating a debilitated system. Two or three physicians participated in the debate. One was for small doses of strychnine, another for "heroic" doses of quinine, and a third insisted that minute doses of prussic acid were best of all. In the midst of the dispute, a gentleman well-known as one of the shrewdest merchants on Broad street, asked the party if they would like a few facts by way of set off to their theories. "Last winter," said he, "as you well know, I was considered a used-up man. No Assurance Company would have given a policy on my life at any premium. I was wasted to a mere skeleton. Nothing I ate nourished me. My stomach and liver seemed to be paralyzed; and, although I did manage to hobble here with the aid of my servant's arm, I was almost as weak as an infant. Well you see me now. I pull down the scale at 158, and the medicine that brought me round when every "specific" of the faculty had failed, was PLANTATION BITTERS.

The Universal Safeguard.

It is useless for State Legislatures to pass laws for the preservation of the public health, if the great law of self-preservation, which depends for its enforcement upon the will of the individual, is suffered to remain a dead letter.

There is scarcely an adult member of the community, of either sex, in the country, who has not seen the testimony in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, furnished over their own signatures by persons of acknowledged eminence in science, literature, art, commerce, and every department of business and professional life. These witnesses have declared in the most explicit terms that the preparation is a safeguard against epidemics, a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia, a valuable anti-billious medicine, a promoter of appetite, a genial and harmless stimulant, a good appetizing medicine, a strengthener of the nerves, a general invigorant, a protection against the deleterious effects of malaria and impure water, and that it imparts a degree of vigor and activity to the vital forces which is not communicated by any other of the tonics and stomachics in use. Under these circumstances the self-preservative law of nature should teach every rational person who, either by reason of inherent debility or in consequence of exposure to unwholesome influences, is in peril of losing the greatest of all temporal blessings, health, the importance of using the Bitters as a defensive medicine. Dyspeptics who neglect to give it a trial are simply their own enemies. It is guaranteed to cure indigestion in all its forms, and the bilious will find nothing in the whole range of official and proprietary medicines which will afford them the same relief.

Stock Books Open.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING BEEN APPOINTED by the incorporators of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company to open books and receive subscriptions to the capital stock of said company, does hereby declare such books now open for subscription at his office in this city.

This is done now, because it was believed that the citizens of Oregon, and especially of Portland, and those along the line of the proposed road would desire to take sufficient stock, at least to be an endorsement of the enterprise, and enable them to exert an influence in its management.

A certain proportion of the Directors are required to be residents of the State, who must first become stockholders before Directors. While the invitation to subscribe thereto is cordial, I will visit Eastern Oregon and Idaho during the month of July to give the citizens there an opportunity of engaging with us in the good cause.

POLITICAL NOTES.

An Ohio Democratic paper asks its party what is to be gained by voting for Radical principles under the name of new-departure Democracy.

A correspondent of the Oregon Herald takes that paper to task for its acceptance of the "new departure," to which it replies in an article about a yard long.

The Albany Morning Express says that the Democratic Press of New York is pledged not to advocate, in an open manner, the nomination of Gov. Hoffman for the Presidency by the National Convention to be held next year.

A Northern Democratic paper which spoke disrespectfully of "ex-President" Davis, of course excited the ire of the Mobile Register, and it screams back: "It will be rooting round the graves of Lee and Jackson next." Go it, ghoul, [illegible] hog, hyena!

The Cleveland Plaindealer rises to explain that no Democratic paper in Ohio has eulogized George W. McCook, candidate for Governor, on account of his gallant war record, except through a mistake in identity. He only served a few [illegible] and then a quartermaster of a regiment in the early part of the war, guarding prisoners in Baltimore.

The W[illegible] (N. C.) Journal (Dem.) has joined the small ranks of the "New Departures" with some misgiving and much lamentation, and says: "We are not going to throw up our hats and boots for a movement which excuses, to say the least, all the injustice and the suffering which we have endured patiently and silently. All we desire is to be let alone. We request that our feelings shall be respected. We demand [illegible] shall not be insulted."

The following from the Fulton (Mo.) Fair Play is another straw showing how the "new departure" is regarded by the masses of the party in the old slave States: "We denounce the so called Democracy as a lie, a swindle, a transparent cheat. No man who was ever a Democrat, or who knows what the word means, has any use for a 'Democracy' which adopts and indorses the three constitutional amendments, and is afraid to open its cowardly lips in favor of 'State rights' or 'a white man's government.' But the Republican and the whole [illegible] in this State who [illegible] for the last ten years to adopt its thoughts in place of [illegible] selves, are ready to denounce [illegible] the Mexico [illegible], the Lexington [illegible], and every other paper in [illegible] which dares now to advocate a [illegible] has any heart or brains or backbone [illegible]

A Novel Experiment.

[illegible] PROPELLED BY A TURBINE WHEEL.

The N[illegible] Telegraph says that two [illegible] have been for ten days [illegible] ing a small, experimental ship there, which will be launched, when complete, on the Nashua river, and make a trial trip. It is thirty-two feet beam and eight feet depth of hold, and its peculiarity is in the propelling power, which is [illegible] invented by a man who has followed the sea for many years. It is thus described.

The propelling power is to be a turbine wheel, set at the bottom of a flume rising five feet from the ship's bottom. The water enters the flume from the ship's side, just below the water line. This opening is provided with a valve, to prevent the water from returning [illegible] the ship lurches in a rough sea. How is the water to leave the ship? asks every one. From the bottom of the flume, near the [illegible] wheel, a tunnel eighteen inches in diameter extends along the ship's bottom to the extreme stern. This tunnel is to be so constructed as to constitute a cylinder, and is to be supplied with a set of revolving [illegible] to accelerate the egress of the water, and with valves to prevent the inflowing of the water from the stern. The water in the flume will have a head of five feet, furnishing a [illegible] of [illegible] horse power. Now the inventor, with [illegible] of the wheel, then expects to secure one hundred revolutions of the screw before the outer valve in the tunnel is reached by the out-flowing current of water, or a rate of speed equal to five miles an hour. A moving vessel always makes a trough in the sea at the stern, and the faster the vessel moves the greater the trough. This trough will lessen, to a considerable extent, the pressure on the outer tunnel valve, and the remaining force necessary to overcome the pressure, open the valves, and release the water is expected to be created by the movement of the vessel itself. The principle is that which will empty the bowl of a common clay pipe drawn rapidly through the water. Once in motion the ship is expected to attain a rate of speed only equaled by the power of the turbine.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S VIEWS.—NEW YORK, June 8th.—The President, in conversation yesterday, said:

There is a great deal of nonsense written about me. I don't want to do any more than carry out the wishes of the American people as they are expressed through their representatives and the Press. I try to observe the oath of office I took when inaugurated, and I believe I have succeeded. What good I have done the credit is to the people. The faults of the A[illegible] are mine; my faults have [illegible] and centre. What good I have [illegible] in the rear. It remains for the people to decide on the merits and [illegible] of my administration. As to the Indians and the President, these people who clamor for the destruction of the Indians on the [illegible] either are interested or know nothing [illegible] condition of affairs in the wild regions where the Indians live. I have lived with [illegible] and know them thoroughly. [illegible] can be civilized and made [illegible]. It takes tact and skill, b[illegible]. They are shrewd and [illegible] won't be shaved out of their rights [illegible] know it. My policy is peace. When I said "Let us have peace," I meant it. I want peace on the plains as everywhere else. That attack on the Apaches was murder purely. The Apaches are warlike; that is, the young savages wander off to rob and [illegible] occasionally, but no doubt that they have provocation. I will investigate the massacre of the Apaches at Camp Grant, and be just to all concerned. The Indian question is not one the Government should be called upon to settle. The citizens of the outlying States and Territories ought to be able to do that. The Quakers are doing well, have done well, and will do more. Other denominations of Christians are also laboring [illegible] the Indians. They are all working for the same end, and I will give them all the support I can. I don't like riding over and shooting these poor savages; I want to [illegible] them and make them peaceful [illegible]. The policy of peace, Sir, is much preferable to the policy of war.

ANOTHER DENIZEN OF POMPEII.—Another skeleton has been added to the painfully interesting collections in the museum of Pompeii, and there are now (says a correspondent of the London Athenæum) the remains of six of the unhappy victims of the eruption which overwhelmed that city. The ingenious method adopted by Fiorelli is too well known to render any description of it necessary; every guide book repeats it, and on the first experiment being made I sent you a full and detailed report. The bed of ashes in which [illegible] sixth skeleton, was found, or rather which preserved the impress of it, though mixed with lapilli, gives the form of the deceased with an exactitude which far surpasses that observed in any other instance. The head has succeeded to perfection, and the legs and feet are so well furnished as to leave nothing to desire. In his flight he fell backward, and his agony is strongly expressed in the contortions of his face, and in the convulsive clasp of his left hand.

A TOUGH STORY.—A gentleman, says an exchange, had a Durham cow that gave birth, all at one time, to a two year old heifer that had no legs at all. Mr. Uke took a five-quarter auger and bored holes where the legs ought to be, and then drove in the legs of the [illegible] United Brethren mourner's bench. He then applied Dr. Stratford's celebrated Indian hair tonic to the legs, which haired them over in one night, and brought out the hoofs most beautifully. The animal has since trotted her mile in 1:18, and took the premium at the last Illinois State Fair. During the month of July she smoked six calves and gave ten gallons of milk every day.

ANECDOTE OF COUNT BISMARCK.—In the summer of 1845, when Bismarck, being then twenty-seven years old, was on duty as a cavalry officer, he was standing with other officers on a bridge over a lake when his groom, Hilderbrand, the son of the forester on his estate, rode a horse for a bath in the lake close by the bridge. Suddenly the horse lost his footing, and Hilderbrand disappeared in the water. Bismarck threw off his sword in an instant, [illegible] off his uniform, and dashed headlong into the lake to save his servant. He seized him, but the drowning man clung to him so fast that he had to dive before he could free himself. Bubbles rose over the spot, and master and servant were given up by the spectators as lost; but the powerful swimmer had succeeded in releasing himself, and he arose to the surface, bearing up with him and bringing to land his inanimate burden. The rescued man, however, shortly recovered, and for the brave action Bismarck obtained a simple medallion—the well known Prussian safety medal—which may occasionally be seen beside the many stars on his breast. He is proud of this mark of honor, and it is said that on one occasion a noble diplomatist asked him the meaning of this little modest decoration. "I am," he replied, "in the habit sometimes of saving a man's life."

MODERN ECONOMY.—One man can spin more cotton yarn now than four hundred men could have done in the same time in 1769, when Arkwright, the great cotton-spinner, took out his first patent. One man can make as much flour in a day now as a hundred and fifty could a century ago. One woman can make now as much lace in a day as a hundred [illegible] ago. It now requires only as many days to refine sugar as it did months thirty years ago. It once required six months to put quicksilver on a glass; now it needs only forty minutes. The engine of a first rate ironclad frigate will perform as much work in a day as forty-two thousand horses.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

Of a far higher class than any other proprietary medicine of the day stands

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT

And for this reason: it is an exact counterpart of one of the most valuable natural medicines in the world. We refer to the great Seltzer Spring of Germany, to which thousands of the dyspeptic, the bilious, the rheumatic, and the victims of venal diseases resort annually, and return to their homes convalescent or cured. The Aperient is one of the first, and by far the most successful of all the efforts made to reproduce, in a portable form, the popular mineral waters of Europe. See that you purchase only the genuine article.
